Dear Dennis:

Many thanks for your quick response to the invitation. I understand Sheryl is traveling as well, so I will make sure Jim Wernitz is invited to represent EPA Region 10. These are very exciting times at the site, and I hope before too long you and I will have the chance to visit.

Barry:

It's good to hear from you and good to hear that the ValleyAgronomics project is moving forward successfully. Unfortunately, I am scheduled to be in Washington, DC on June 8. Should you want to pursue an alternate to represent EPA I am copying Sheryl Bilbrey, the new Director of our Office of Environmental Cleanup in Region 10 and also Jim Wernitz, our Idaho Operations Office Director in Boise on my reply. I hope you are doing well.

Dear Dennis,

I hope this note finds you well. I'm writing to invite you to a groundbreaking event for the ValleyAgronomics, LLC redevelopment project at the FMC Pocatello site. We will be celebrating the construction of this significant project, which will lead to the opening of a new fertilizer blending and distribution center in November of this year.

The ceremony is scheduled for June 8, 2016, and will start at approximately 11:15 a.m. All local dignitaries are invited, along with a significant number of agricultural interests in Southeast Idaho. Governor Butch Otter will attend and headline the event. VIP tours of the project will be provided, along with a BBQ lunch.

If you are able to fit this event into your schedule, I believe you will find it very worthwhile. I've also invited Mathy Stanislaus, given his familiarity with FMC's commitment to remediation/redevelopment at our Front Royal, Virginia location which he has visited; along with the Shoshone Bannock Tribal Council. The CERCLA program works best when redevelopment is incorporated into site remediation. This collaborative effort will serve Southeast Idaho for decades to come.

Best regards,
